

UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

OFFICE OF ELEMENTARY AND SECONDARY EDUCATION

The Honorable Frank Edelblut Commissioner New Hampshire Department of Education 101 Pleasant Street Concord, NH 03301-3860

September 20, 2019

Dear Commissioner Edelblut:

Thank you for your participation in the U.S. Department of Education's (the Department) assessment peer review process under Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 (ESEA), as amended by the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA). I appreciate the efforts of the New Hampshire Department of Education (NHDOE) to prepare for the English language proficiency (ELP) assessment peer review, which occurred in April 2019. Specifically, NHDOE submitted evidence regarding ACCESS and Alternate ACCESS.

The ESEA and its implementing regulations require a State to ensure that it provides an annual ELP assessment of all English learners (ELs) in grades K-12 in schools served by the State (ESEA section 1111(b)(2)(G); 34 CFR § 200.6(h)). Specifically, the ESEA requires a State to develop a uniform statewide ELP assessment to measure the ELP of all ELs in the State, including ELs with disabilities, and to provide an alternate ELP assessment (AELPA) for ELs who are students with the most significant cognitive disabilities who cannot participate in the regular ELP assessment even with accommodations (ESEA section 1111(b)(2)(G); 34 CFR § 200.6(h)(1), (5)). The ESEA and its implementing regulations require that a State's ELP assessments, including the AELPA, be aligned with the State's ELP standards, provide valid and reliable measures of the State's ELP standards, and be of adequate technical quality (ESEA section 1111(b)(2)(G); 34 CFR §§ 200.2(b)(2), (b)(4), (b)(5), 200.6(h)(2)).

External peer reviewers and Department staff carefully evaluated NHDOE's submission and the Department found, based on the evidence received, that this component of your assessment system met some, but not all of the statutory and regulatory requirements of the ESEA. Based on the recommendations from this peer review and our own analysis of the State's submission, I have determined the following:

- General ELP assessment (ACCESS): Partially meets requirements of the ESEA, as amended by ESSA.
- Alternate ELP assessment (Alternate ACCESS): Partially meets requirements of the ESEA, as amended by ESSA.

The assessments that partially meet requirements do not meet a number of the requirements of the statute and regulations and NHDOE will need to provide substantial additional information to demonstrate it meets the requirements. The Department realizes that this was the first time your State was required to provide its ELP and AELPA for peer review and recognizes that it may take some time to address all of the required items. The specific list of items required for NHDOE to submit is enclosed with this letter. Within 30 days, NHDOE must provide a plan and timeline for submitting all required documentation. Upon submission of the plan, the Department will reach out to the State educational agency (SEA) to determine a mutually agreeable schedule. Resubmission should occur once all necessary evidence is complete (rather than in multiple submissions). The Department is placing a condition on NHDOE's Title I, Part A grant award. To satisfy this condition, NHDOE must submit satisfactory evidence to address the items identified in the enclosed list. If adequate progress is not made, the Department may take additional action.

The full peer review notes from the review are enclosed. These recommendations to the Department formed the basis of our determination. Please note that the peers' recommendations may differ from the Department's feedback; we encourage you to read the full peer notes for additional suggestions and recommendations for improving your assessment system beyond what is noted in the Department's feedback. Department staff will reach out to your assessment director in the next few days to discuss the peer notes and the Department's determination and to answer any questions you have.

Additionally, the Office of Special Education and Rehabilitative Services (OSERS) will monitor progress on matters pertaining to requirements in the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) related to the participation of students with disabilities in Title I assessments. In particular, OSERS will monitor progress against critical elements 1.4, 4.2, 5.1, 5.3, 5.4, 6.1 and 6.3. Insufficient progress to address such matters may lead OSERS to place a condition on NHDOE's fiscal year 2020 IDEA Part B grant award.

Thank you for your ongoing commitment to improving educational outcomes for all students. I look forward to our continued partnership as we move ahead with this critical work. I appreciate the work you are doing to improve your schools and provide a high-quality education for your students.

If you have any questions, please contact my staff at: ESEA.Assessment@ed.gov.

Sincerely,

/s/ Frank T. Brogan Assistant Secretary for Elementary and Secondary Education

Critical Elements Where Additional Evidence is Needed to Meet the Requirements for New Hampshire's Use of the ACCESS and Alternate ACCESS as English Language Proficiency (ELP) Assessments

Critical Element	Additional Evidence Needed
1.1 – State Adoption of ELP Standards for All English Learners	For the State's ELP standards:Evidence that NH has adopted the most current WIDA ELP standards.
1.2 – Coherent and Progressive ELP Standards that Correspond to the State's Academic Content Standards	 For the State's ELP standards: For science, evidence that the ELP standards contain language proficiency expectations that reflect the language needed for ELs to acquire and demonstrate their achievement of the knowledge and skills identified in the State's academic content standards appropriate to each grade-level/grade-band. For reading/language arts (R/LA) and mathematics, evidence of alignment of its current ELP standards to the State's academic content standards, including a plan to address findings of the previous alignment study.
1.3 – Required Assessments 1.4 – Policies for Including All Students in Assessments	 For the Alternate ACCESS: Evidence that the alternate ELP assessment is available in kindergarten. For the Alternate ACCESS: Evidence that the State includes ELs with the most significant cognitive disabilities in the ELP assessment.
2.1 – Test Design and Development	 For ACCESS and the Alternate ACCESS: Evidence that both assessments are aligned to the depth and breadth of the State's ELP standards, including: Statement of the purposes and intended uses of results. Test blueprints. Processes to ensure that the ELP assessment is tailored to the knowledge and skills included in the State's ELP standards and reflects appropriate inclusion of the range of complexity found in the standards (e.g., detail about the routing rules, detail of the item selection process for paper forms to ensure it adheres to the blueprint).
	 For ACCESS: Evidence that the item pool and item selection procedures adequately support the multi-stage adaptive administrations. Evidence that proficiency determinations are made with respect to the grade in which the student is enrolled.
2.2 – Item Development	 For ACCESS: Evidence of reasonable and technically sound procedures to develop and select items (e.g., timeline of development, qualifications of item writers, item-writing training, item review processes and reviewer qualifications, field test processes for each domain, and TAC review).

Critical Element	Additional Evidence Needed
	For the Alternate ACCESS:
	• Evidence of reasonable and technically sound procedures to develop and select items to assess ELP (e.g., involvement of experts with knowledge of English learners with significant cognitive disabilities).
2.3 – Test	For ACCESS and the Alternate ACCESS:
Administration	 Evidence of established communication to educators of clear, thorough and consistent standardized procedures for the administration of its assessments, including administration with accommodations (e.g., guidelines or recommended qualifications of test administrators including volunteers, training of volunteers, and qualifications and training for the human providers of accommodations). Evidence of established procedures to ensure that general and special education teachers, paraprofessionals, teachers of ELs, specialized instruction support personnel, and other appropriate staff receive necessary training to administer assessments and know how to administer assessments, including, as necessary, alternate assessments, and know how to make use of appropriate accommodations during assessments for all students with disabilities (e.g., content of training modules, evidence that training is required for test administrators and evidence of participation in such training). For ACCESS: Evidence of established contingency plans to address possible technology challenges during test administration.
2.4 – Monitoring	For ACCESS and the Alternate ACCESS:
Test Administration	 Evidence that the State adequately monitors the administration of its State assessments to ensure that standardized test administration procedures are implemented with fidelity across districts and schools (e.g., a summary of monitoring activities, or redacted samples of completed test monitoring visits).
2.5 – Test Security	For ACCESS and the Alternate ACCESS:
	 Evidence of policies and procedures that prevent assessment irregularities, including maintaining the security of test materials (both during test development and at time of test administration), proper test preparation guidelines and administration procedures, incident-reporting procedures, consequences for confirmed violations of test security, and requirements for annual training at the district and school levels for all individuals involved in test administration. Specifically, evidence for the Alternate ACCESS of policies and procedures to protect the integrity of the test given that the test form is unchanged for the past several years.
	 Evidence of detection of test irregularities. Evidence of remediation following any test security incidents.
	 Evidence of remediation following any test security incidents. Evidence of the investigation of alleged or factual test irregularities (e.g., forensic analysis and plans to address concerns).

Critical Element	Additional Evidence Needed
2.6 – Systems for	For ACCESS and the Alternate ACCESS:
Protecting Data Integrity and Privacy	 Policies and procedures to protect the integrity of test-related data in test administration (e.g., how data are protected by all parties, including during handoffs). Policies and procedures to maintain secure student-level data that protect student privacy and confidentiality (e.g., guidelines for districts and schools).
3.1 – Overall	For ACCESS:
Validity, including Validity Based on Content	• Documentation of adequate alignment between the State's ELP assessment and the ELP standards the assessment is designed to measure in terms of language knowledge and skills and the depth and breadth of the State's ELP standards across all proficiency levels, domains, and modalities identified therein.
	• Documentation of alignment between the State's ELP standards and the language demands implied by, or explicitly stated in, the State's academic content standards.
	 For the Alternate ACCESS: Evidence of adequate linkage to the State's ELP standards in terms of content match (i.e., no unrelated content) and that the breadth of content and linguistic complexity determined in test design is appropriate for ELs who are students with the most significant cognitive disabilities.
3.2 – Validity	For ACCESS and the Alternate ACCESS:
Based on Linguistic Processes	• Adequate validity evidence that its assessments tap the intended language processes appropriate for each grade level/grade-band as represented in the State's ELP standards.
3.3 – Validity	For ACCESS and the Alternate ACCESS:
Based on Internal Structure	• Evidence that the scoring and reporting structures of the assessments are consistent with the subdomain structures of the State's ELP standards (e.g., an explanation of how the included statistical analyses relate to the validity framework for the assessments).
3.4 – Validity	For ACCESS and Alternate ACCESS:
Based on Relationships with Other Variables	• Adequate validity evidence that the State's assessment scores are related as expected with other variables.
4.1 – Reliability	 For ACCESS and Alternate ACCESS: Evidence of test reliability, including: Reliability by subgroups; Consistency and accuracy of estimates in categorical classification decisions for the cut scores, achievement levels or proficiency levels based on the assessment results; Evidence that reliability statistics are used to inform ongoing maintenance and development.

Critical Element	Additional Evidence Needed
	 For ACCESS: For computer-adaptive tests, evidence that the assessments produce test forms with adequately precise estimates of an EL's English language proficiency.
	 For the Alternate ACCESS: Evidence of reliability, including test information functions (TIFs) for overall composite scores.
4.2 – Fairness and accessibility	 For ACCESS and the Alternate ACCESS: Evidence that the assessments are accessible to all students and fair across student groups in design, development, and analysis (e.g., the implementation of universal design principles, to the extent practicable, during item development and review, and additional differential item functioning (DIF) analyses to include more student subgroups).
	 For the Alternate ACCESS: Evidence that the State has taken reasonable and appropriate steps to ensure that its assessments are accessible to all EL students and fair across student groups, including ELs with disabilities, in their design, development, and analysis, guidance and instructions on appropriate instructional supports that can be used during the assessment, particularly for Braille and alternate modes of communication.
4.3 – Full Performance Continuum	 For ACCESS and the Alternate ACCESS: Evidence that each assessment provides an adequately precise estimate of student performance across the full performance continuum for ELP assessments, including performance for EL students with high and low levels of English language proficiency.
4.4 – Scoring	 For ACCESS and the Alternate ACCESS: Evidence that if an English learner has a disability that precludes assessment of the student in one or more of the required domains/components (listening, speaking, reading, and writing) because there are no appropriate accommodations for the affected domain(s)/component(s), the State ensures that the student is assessed in the remaining domain(s)/component(s) in which it is possible to assess the student, including a description of how this will occur.
	 For ACCESS: Evidence of standardized scoring procedures and protocols that are designed to produce reliable and meaningful results, facilitate valid score interpretations, and report assessment results in terms of the State's ELP standards (e.g., evidence that the scoring of speaking items on the paper form of the test is monitored.)
	 For the Alternate ACCESS: Evidence of the implementation of standardized scoring procedures and protocols (e.g., definitions of key terms and test administration and scoring procedures).

Critical Element	Additional Evidence Needed
4.5 – Multiple	For ACCESS:
Assessment Forms	• Evidence that all forms adequately represent the State's ELP standards and yield consistent score interpretations such that the forms are comparable within and across settings, particularly for the listening domain (e.g., rationales for why equating is not done for the paper versions of the reading and listening domains and rationales for the use of the anchor item sets).
	For the Alternate ACCESS:
	• Evidence that all forms adequately represent the State's ELP standards and yield consistent score interpretations such that the forms are comparable within and across settings (e.g., evidence that using the same test items every year does not impact validity).
4.7 – Technical	For ACCESS and the Alternate ACCESS:
Analysis and Ongoing Maintenance	• Evidence of adequate technical quality is made public, including on the State's website.
	For the Alternate ACCESS:
	• Evidence of a system for monitoring, maintaining, and improving, as needed, the quality of its assessment system.
5.1 – Procedures	For ACCESS and the Alternate ACCESS:
for Including Students with Disabilities	 Evidence of procedures to ensure the inclusion of all public elementary and secondary school students with disabilities in the State's assessment system. Evidence of policies that require the inclusion of an EL with a disability that precludes assessment of the student in one or more of the required domains (i.e., ensuring that the student will be assessed based on the remaining components in which it is possible to assess the student).
5.3 –	For ACCESS and the Alternate ACCESS:
Accommodations	 Evidence that the provided accommodations: Are appropriate and effective for meeting the individual student's need(s) to participate in the assessments. Do not alter the construct being assessed. Allow meaningful interpretations of results and comparison of scores for students who need and receive accommodations and students who do not need and do not receive accommodations. Evidence of a process to individually review and allow exceptional requests for a small number of students who require accommodations beyond those routinely allowed.
	 For the Alternate ACCESS: Evidence that appropriate accommodations are available for ELs. Evidence that accommodations do not deny students with disabilities or ELs the opportunity to participate in the assessment.
5.4 – Monitoring Test Administration for Special Populations	 For ACCESS and the Alternate ACCESS: Evidence that the State monitors test administration in its districts and schools to ensure that appropriate assessments, with or without accommodations, are selected for ELs with disabilities so that they are appropriately included in the ELP assessments and receive accommodations that are:

	• Consistent with the State's policies for accommodations.
	• Consistent with accommodations provided to the students during instruction and/or practice. Consistent with the assessment accommodations identified by a student's IEP Team under IDEA, placement team convened under Section 504; or for students covered by Title II of the ADA, the individual or team designated by a district to make these decisions; or another process for an EL.
6.1 – State	For ACCESS and the Alternate ACCESS:
Adoption of ELP Achievement	• Evidence that the State adopted ELP achievement standards that address the different proficiency levels of ELs.
Standards for All Students	• If the State has developed alternate ELP achievement standards, evidence that it has adopted them only for ELs who are students with the most significant cognitive disabilities who cannot participate in the regular ELP assessment even with appropriate accommodations.
6.2 – ELP	For the Alternate ACCESS:
Achievement Standards-Setting	• Evidence that the State used a technically sound method and process for setting ELP achievement standards, such that cut scores are developed for every grade/grade band, content domain/language domain, and/or composite for which proficiency-level scores are reported.
6.3 – Aligned ELP	For ACCESS:
Achievement Standards	• Evidence that ELP assessment results are expressed in terms that are clearly aligned with the State's ELP standards and its ELP performance level descriptors.
	For the Alternate ACCESS:
	 If the State has developed alternate ELP achievement standards, evidence that the alternate ELP achievement standards are linked to the State's grade- level/grade-band ELP standards and reflect professional judgment of the highest ELP achievement standards possible for ELs who are students with the most significant cognitive disabilities.
6.4 – Reporting	For ACCESS and the Alternate ACCESS:
	 Evidence that the State's reporting of assessment results facilitates timely interpretations and uses of those results by parents, educators, State officials, policymakers and other stakeholders, and the public. Evidence that the State provides coherent and timely information about each student's attainment of the State's ELP standards to parents that are, to the extent practicable, written in a language that parents and guardians can understand or, if it is not practicable to provide written translations to a parent or guardian with limited English proficiency, are orally translated for such parent or guardian.
	• Evidence that student reports are, upon request by an individual with a disability, provided in an alternative format accessible to that parent.

Critical Element	Additional Evidence Needed
	For the Alternate ACCESS:
	• Evidence that performance level descriptors are included on student score reports.

Peer Review of State Assessment Systems

April State ELP Assessment Peer Review Notes

U. S. Department of Education Office of Elementary and Secondary Education Washington, D.C. 20202

Note: Peer review notes provide the combined recommendations of the individual peers to the U.S. Department of Education (Department), based on the statute and regulations, the Department's peer review guidance, and the peers' professional judgement of the evidence submitted by the State. These assessment peer review notes, however, do not necessarily reflect the final set of additional evidence, if any, that a State may need to submit to demonstrate that its assessment system meets all of the critical elements for assessment peer review. Although the peer notes inform the Secretary's consideration of each State's assessment system, the Department makes the final decision regarding whether the assessment system meets the requirements in the statute and regulations. As a result, these peer notes may not completely align with the final determination made by the Department. Contents

 Critical Element For ELP standards: are derived from the four domains of speaking, listening, reading, and writing; address the different proficiency levels of ELs; and align to the State academic content standards (see definition¹). For example, alignment studies claim to align to CCSS but the standards were written prior to the CCSS. The alignment study was conducted prior to development of CCSS? From Section 1 of WIDA submission notes (p.2 column 3), "The 2012 Amplification strengthened areas that 2016 validation study identified as not having strong alignment to content standards" How can a document dated 2012 address issues identified in 2016?
		 It is not clear what actions were taken to remediate or address the findings of the various alignment studies. Evidence 1.2-4. Conducted in 2010, this study used Cook's criteria to examine linking and alignment of the WIDA ELP Standards MPIs and the CCSS in ELA and mathematics. The study results indicate adequate linking across all grade clusters between the WIDA ELP Standards MPIs and the CCSS in English

Moderate Linking was observed in Reading grades K, 3-5, Writing grades 2, 3-5, 7, 9-12, and Mathematics grades K, 6, 7, and 9-12. However, the study noted that Limited Linking was observed in ELA Writing grade K and Mathematics grade 8. Reviewer comments state that limited Linking on some reporting categories indicated that the language functions and content stems in some MPIs did not adequately address or support those in the Common Core State Standards. Given the changes to the program since 2010, including the Amplification in 2012, an updated alignment study is warranted. There was no evidence provided with regards to alignment for science. Submission notes indicate that WIDA has not conducted an alignment study between WIDA ELP standards and science or social studies standards. Consistent with the note on page 1, the evidence requested by the peer reviewers does not necessarily reflect the final set of additional evidence, if any, that a State may need to submit to demonstrate that its assessment system meets all of the critical elements for the assessment peer review. As a result, a State should refer to the letter to the State, including the list of additional evidence needed, if any, from the Department.

Critical Element	Evidence (Record document and page # for future reference)	Comments/Notes/Questions/Suggestions Regarding State Documentation or Evidence
 The State implements policies and procedures for standardized test administration; specifically, the State: Has established and communicates to educators clear, thorough and consistent standardized procedures for the administration of its assessments, including administration with accommodations; Has established procedures to ensure that general and special education teachers, paraprofessionals, teachers of ELs, specialized instructional support personnel, and other appropriate staff receive necessary training to administer assessments and know how to administer assessments, including, as necessary, alternate assessments, and know how to make use of appropriate accommodations during assessments for all students with disabilities; If the State administers technology-based assessments, the State has defined technology and other related requirements, included technology-based test administration in its standardized procedures for test administration, and established contingency plans to address possible technology challenges during test administration. 	ACCESS Communicates clear standardized procedures for administration • 2.3-1 Test Administration Manual • 2.3-3 Script for Administrator • 2.3-4 weekly emails with updates for SEAs and LEAs • The TAM does not define who can be a test administrator. Established procedures for training administrators including on accommodations • 2.3-2 Training materials • 2.3-5 Technical Readiness Checklist • 2.3-6 Troubleshooting Established contingency plans • 2.3-7 p.12-13 Critical incidents communication plan, not really a contingency plan	 ACCESS Communicates clear standardized procedures for administration This WIDA policy handbook does include references about test administrators, "designated testing staff or volunteers who will have access to secure test materials complete TA training for the applicable tests." p. 4. The same criteria appear to apply to those scoring and transcribing student responses. The Peers question the appropriateness of volunteers serving as test administrators. While the States may be responsible for test administrations, WIDA should include guidelines or recommended qualifications of test administrators to ensure test security and protect the validity of scores. More information about the qualifications and training for the human providers of accommodations (e.g. scribe, reader, sign language interpreter). Training Additional information regarding the test administrator training is needed (e.g. for each module, the table of contents and outline) Information about how volunteers access training materials. Do they access it via the secure online system? Information regarding the training of the test administrator to score the student responses for the paper test.

Explain that training must be completed, preferably 2 weeks prior to test administration and that administrator must pas a quiz with at least 80% correct. • It is not likely that accommodations would be addressed in the training since there are no accommodations, rather all "individualized instructional supports" are permitted.	 • 2.3-1 Test Administrator Manual, Part 1 is for all test administrators; specific test administration

 There is no description related to allowable student response modes, e.g., pointing, eye-gaze, etc. This should be included in this section. Why does the student need a sharpened pencil if another mode of response will be used? P. 149. "In order to allow the student to demonstrate his or her proficiency, any evidence of engagement that is typical for that student in an instructional setting should be scored as a correct response." How has "evidence of engagement" been validated as a correct response and demonstration of English language proficiency? There does not appear to be adequate examples of what "approaches" means vs an incorrect response P. 154 "If a student asks for an explanation of some word or phrase in a task statement, check to make sure that the student understood your pronunciation of the word or phrase." It is a concern that direction for how to do this is not provided. Does this mean repeat the word/phrase? Does it mean to ask the student if he/she understood the pronunciation? How is the test administered to a student who is deaf or hard of hearing? Blind or visually impaired? Does not have oral speech or has a combination of these disabilities in addition to an intellectual disability?
intellectual disability?Are tracing and repeating a sound reflective of ELP standards?
Based on the information cited above, the test administration policies and procedures need to more appropriately reflect the characteristics of the students participating in the assessment and the diverse ways they respond to assessment items (e.g. eye gaze, use of assistive technology). Involvement of experts who have experience with assessing English learners with significant cognitive

 The State has implemented and documented an appropriate set of policies and procedures to prevent test irregularities and ensure the integrity of test results through: Prevention of any assessment irregularities, including maintaining the security of test materials (both during test development and at time of test administration), proper test preparation guidelines and administration procedures, incident-reporting procedures, consequences for confirmed violations of test security, and requirements for annual training at the district and school levels for all individuals involved in test administration; Detection of test irregularities; Remediation following any test security incidents involving any of the State's assessments; Investigation of alleged or factual test irregularities. SECTION 3: TECHNICAL QUALITY – VALIDITY

Critical Element 3.1 – Overall Validity, Including Validity Based on Content

Critical Element	Evidence (Record document and page # for future reference)	Comments/Notes/Questions/Suggestions Regarding State Documentation or Evidence
 Critical Element The State has documented adequate overall validity evidence for its assessments consistent with nationally recognized professional and technical testing standards. The State's validity evidence includes evidence that: The State's ELP assessments measure the knowledge and skills specified in the State's ELP standards, including: Documentation of adequate alignment between the State's ELP assessment and the ELP standards the assessment is designed to measure in terms of language knowledge and skills, the depth and breadth of the State's ELP standards, across all proficiency levels, domains, and modalities identified therein; Documentation of alignment (as defined) between the State's ELP standards and the language demands implied by, or explicitly stated in, the State's academic content standards;If the State administers an AELPA		information regarding how the tests should be specified. For example, there is no indication on the blueprint that would indicate the degree of cognitive complexity (linguistic difficulty level) across the tests

• Evidence of adequate linkage to the State's ELP standards in terms of content match (i.e., no unrelated content) and that the breadth of content and linguistic complexity determined in test design is appropriate for ELs who are students with the most significant cognitive disabilities.

Consistent with the note on page 1, the evidence requested by the peer reviewers does not necessarily reflect the final set of additional evidence, if any, that a State may need to submit to demonstrate that its assessment system meets all of the critical elements for the assessment peer review. Evidence here should focus on the relationship with "other variables" and should provide information about how the "scores are related as expected." Therefore, much of the cited evidence is not sufficient. 	 ACCESS To fully address this standard, evidence of how the "scores are related as expected to other variables" is required. This additional evidence would also link the study findings to the validity framework. Additional studies are needed with the current version of the assessment.

SECTION 4: TECHNICAL QUALITY – OTHER

Critical Element 4.1 – Reliability

Critical Element	Evidence (Record document and page # for future reference)	Comments/Notes/Questions/Suggestions Regarding State Documentation or Evidence
 The State has documented adequate reliability evidence for its assessments for the following measures of reliability for the State's student population overall and each student group consistent with nationally recognized professional and technical testing standards. If the State's assessments are implemented in multiple States, measures of reliability for the assessment overall and each student group consistent with nationally recognized professional and technical testing standards, including: Test reliability of the State's assessments estimated for its student population (for ELP assessments, including any domain or component sub-tests, as applicable); Overall and conditional standard error of measurement of the State's assessments, including any domain or component sub-tests, as applicable; Consistency and accuracy of estimates in categorical classification decisions for the cut scores, achievement levels or proficiency levels based on the assessment results; For computer-adaptive tests, evidence that the assessments produce test forms with adequately 	ACCESS 2.1-2, provided by domain No subgroup information 	 ACCESS While the various statistics (e.g. Cronbach's alpha, decision consistency, TIF) are provided at the composite and domain levels, they are not computed for any subgroups, such as gender and SES, accommodation type. Accuracy and consistency measures for some composite scores and domains appeared low (see for example 2.1-2 p.345, p.167-168). If the proficiency levels are used to make decisions for these measures, then this needs to be addressed. The Peers' understanding is that states can make decisions regarding the way in which scores are used to make decisions. Does WIDA provide more guidance given the reliability information? While it may have been done, the Peers could not locate, for computer-adaptive tests, evidence that the assessments produce test forms with adequately precise estimates of an EL's English proficiency. Given the multistage adaptive administrations, the Peers were looking for evidence that WIDA has considered the reliability of the forms, or pathways, across students. A large amount of statistical output was provided; however, there was not information or narrative about how this information is interpreted by WIDA and will be used to guide future development work within the program. For example, are there areas for which WIDA will focus efforts and try to improve in the future? For example, this could include TAC notes from the discussion of these statistics.

Reliability information for overall composite scores was located (p. 109, 138, 165, 194). 	 Alternate ACCESS While various reliability estimates (Cronbach's alpha, decisions consistency) are reported for some composite scores and domains, the Peers could not locate the TIFs for the overall composite scores. While the various statistics (e.g. Cronbach's alpha, decision consistency, TIF) are provided at the composite and domain levels, they are not computed for any subgroups, such as gender and SES, accommodation type. Accuracy and consistency measures for some composite scores and domains appeared low (see for example 2.1-4 p.96, p.102). For all State ELP assessments, assessments should be developed, to the extent practicable, using the principles of universal design for learning (UDL) (see definition ²). For ELP assessments, the State has taken reasonable and appropriate steps to ensure that its assessments are accessible to all EL students and fair across student groups, including ELs with disabilities, in their design, development, and analysis.	 ACCESS 2.2-17 The WIDA Accessibility and Accommodations Framework, p. 4. Examples of universal design in ACCESS test items: Test items with multiple modalities, including supporting prompts with appropriate animations and graphics, Embedded scaffolding, tasks broken into "chunks", modeling using task models and guides 2.2-17, pp. 11-12. ACCESS also incorporates the use of universal tools that are available to all students, designated supports that are features available to any student, and accommodations for students with disabilities. 4.2.1 Test and item Design Plan for the Annual Summative and On-demand Screener 2013, p. 14 indicates that items will be developed using the principles of universal design. Consistent with the note on page 1, the evidence requested by the peer reviewers does not necessarily reflect the final set of additional evidence, if any, that a State may need to submit to demonstrate that its assessment system meets all of the critical elements for the assessment peer review. As a result, a State should refer to the letter to the State, including the list of additional evidence needed, if any, from the Department.

 Less than four domains 4.4-7 Four models are presented to create a composite score when less than four domains are assessed. No recommendations were made, rather these are suggestions of models that the states could use to report a composite score when a student with a disability is assessed in less than four domains. While this situation is considered, there is limited information provided to states to make defensible decisions for these students particularly with regards to the impact on the validity framework. 	Alternate ACCESS
 Anternate ACCESS Standardized Scoring Procedures 2.1-4 Scripts and directions for scoring are provided in the TAM and are referenced in the TR for Alternate ACCESS. All assessments are scored by the test administrator. There is no evidence provided that standardized scoring procedures are applied given the local scoring. 	 Anternate ACCEESS There is no evidence of the implementation of standardized scoring procedures. This could include monitoring of test administration, a second scorer in the room during test administration, analyses of scores to identify test irregularities or qualification of scorers. Definitions of key terms and test administration and scoring procedures (e.g. cueing, attending, approaching, permissible individualized instructional supports that can be used during assessment) are not included which likely leads to inconsistent administration and scoring. WIDA provided evidence of four models for states to consider if an English learner has a disability that precludes assessment of the student in one or more of the required domains/components (listening, speaking, reading, and writing) such that there are no appropriate accommodations for the affected domain(s)/component(s). States must provide a description of how it will ensure that the student is assessed in the remaining domain(s)/component(s) in which it is possible to assess the student, and a description of how this will occur.

The State used a technically sound method and process that involved panelists with appropriate experience and expertise for setting: • ELP achievement standards and, as applicable, alternate ELP achievement standards , such that: • Cut scores are developed for every grade/grade band, content domain/language domain, and/or composite for which proficiency- level scores are reported.	 ACCESS 6.1-1 Assessment Proficiency Level Scores Standard Setting Project Report. This report documents in detail the standard setting plan and rationale for the methodologies, processes used to identify and select panelists, the training provided panelists, and how the final recommendations were determined. The standard setting plan was reviewed by an outside expert; suggestions were made for refining some of the processes. 6.1-2 Research Memorandum: Recommended Cuts. Standard setting and subsequent analysis resulted in recommendations for cut scores for grades K-12 for the four domains at six proficiency levels as well as composite scores for each proficiency-level score. 	ACCESS Adequate evidence provided of standards setting.
	 Alternate ACCESS 6.1-3, p. 12-15. Using Angoff Yes/No method, cut scores for four domain scores and four composite scores were established. p. 12. The same four cut scores are used for all grades by domain. 2.1-4 p. 5-6 "As discussed in 1.3.3, because the test blueprints across grade-level clusters by domain are the same, and the Alternate ELP levels and AMPIs for the test tasks across grade-level clusters pose nearly identical linguistic challenges and differ only in the topics presented, common cut scores were set across grade-level clusters by domain." 	 Alternate ACCESS 6.1-3 p. 12 "it appears more appropriate to use the same cut scores for all grade clusters (from grades 1 to 12) by domain. In this way, it will easier to detect growth in English language proficiency from year to year for this population of English learners." The Peers disagree with this approach and feel the same philosophy or theoretical understanding of language development be applied across ACCESS and Alternate ACCESS unless a divergence is supported by the research. This approach calls into question the alignment of the Alternate ACCESS to the ELPs and to the academic content standards. The Peers noted that the number of cut scores established during standard setting did not correspond

And why does WIDA feel that it is reasonable and defensible to exclude the higher level of performance from most domains? Note: Peer review notes provide the combined recommendations of the individual peers to the U.S. Department of Education (Department), based on the statute and regulations, the Department's peer review guidance, and the peers' professional judgement of the evidence submitted by the State. These assessment peer review notes, however, do not necessarily reflect the final set of additional evidence, if any, that a State may need to submit to demonstrate that its assessment system meets all of the critical elements for assessment peer review. Although the peer notes inform the Secretary's consideration of each State's assessment system, the Department makes the final decision regarding whether the assessment system meets the requirements in the statute and regulations. As a result, these peer notes may not completely align with the final determination made by the Department. Contents

Consistent with the note on page 1, the evidence requested by the peer reviewers does not necessarily reflect the final set of additional evidence, if any, that a State may need to submit to demonstrate that its assessment system meets all of the critical elements for the assessment peer review. As a result, a State should refer to the letter to the State, including the list of additional evidence needed, if any, from the Department.

The State's assessment system includes an annual general and alternate ELP assessment (aligned with State ELP standards) administered to: • All ELs in grades K-12.	https://www.education.nh.gov/instruction/accountability/index.htm https://www.education.nh.gov/instruction/assessment/index.htm https://www.education.nh.gov/instruction/assessment/ells.htm	State's evidence establishes that the State's assessment system includes a general ELP assessment that should be administered to all ELs in grades K-12. However, it is unclear if ELs with significant cognitive disabilities that cannot take the general ELP assessment are included in the State's ELP assessment results. There is evidence that points to an AELPA on the State's website, but there are no related documents or evidence that directs LEAs in NH to administer an AELPA. The State will need to provide evidence that is including these ELs in Statewide ELP assessment. Furthermore, the WIDA Alternate ACCESS is not available for students in kindergarten.

The State has developed or amended hallenging ELP standards and ssessments, the State has conducted heaningful and timely consultation with: State leaders, including the Governor, members of the State legislature and State board of education). Local educational agencies (including those located in rural areas). Representatives of Indian tribes located in the State. Teachers, principals, other school leaders, charter schools), specialized instructional support personnel, paraprofessionals, administrators, other staff, and parents. Critical Element 1.5 – Meaningful Consultation in the Development of Challenging State Standards and Assessments

	reference)	State Documentation or Evidence
 The State's test design and test development process is well-suited for the content, is technically sound, aligns the assessments to the depth and breadth of the State's ELP standards, and includes: Statement(s) of the purposes of the assessments and the intended interpretations and uses of results; Test blueprints that describe the structure of each assessment in sufficient detail to support the development of assessments that are technically sound, measure the depth and breadth of the State's ELP standards, and support the intended interpretations and uses of the results. Processes to ensure that the ELP assessment is tailored to the knowledge and skills included in the State's ELP standards and reflects appropriate inclusion of the range of complexity found in the standards. If the State administers computeradaptive assessments, the item pool and item selection procedures adequately support the test design and intended uses and interpretations of results. If the State administers a computeradaptive assessment, it makes proficiency determinations with respect to the grade in which the 	State submission on page 9 cites "Coordinated Evidence submitted by WIDA" but chart on page 5 suggests there will be state evidence provided.	Peers recommend the state consider providing additional evidence on state-specific aspects of purpose and intended use of results. State should also clarify if it intended to provide state evidence or if this was an error in the state submission document. In addition, the state should refer to the peer review notes for the Consortium-provided evidence.

- _x__ The following additional evidence is needed/provide brief rationale:
 - Clarify if the evidence provided by state and Consortium is the full set of standardized procedures and how/if they are codified in policy.
 - Provide evidence of how established standardized procedures for testing and use of accommodations (e.g. manuals, checklists, training documents) are communicated to district staff to educators who will actually administer assessments.
 - For example, does the state send links, emails, or hard copies of documents? Does the state (or Consortium) hold information meetings or webinars to communicate this information or demonstrate how to access information? How does the state build awareness of the established standardized procedures?
 - Provide evidence of established procedures to ensure that all appropriate staff receive necessary training to administer assessments and know how to administer assessments and how to make use of appropriate accommodations during assessments for all EL students with disabilities
 - For example, does the state track who administered assessments and whether or not they attended training? Is it possible to administer a test without having attended training? Does the training include information on how to administer with accommodations?
 - Provide evidence of its technology-related requirements and contingency plans to address possible technology challenges during testing
 - Please refer to peer review of Consortium-provided evidence for additional evidence needed on this element

Critical Element	Evidence (Record document and page # for future reference)	Comments/Notes/Questions/Suggestions Regarding State Documentation or Evidence
The State adequately monitors the administration of its State assessments to ensure that standardized test administration procedures are implemented with fidelity across districts and schools. Monitoring of test administration should be demonstrated for all assessments in the State system: the general ELP assessments and the AELPA.	https://www.education.nh.gov/instruction/assessment/documents/nh_s tatewide_assessment_monitoring_guide_final_032019.pdf	The State provided evidence of procedures for monitoring of ELP assessments. The State did provide evidence of a systematic plan for selecting schools for monitoring visits. There was evidence of guidance given to LEAs about conducting local monitoring of ELP test administrations. However, no evidence was provided (e.g., a redacted observation report, a summary of monitoring activities) that monitoring of ELP test administration had occurred.

Critical Element 2.4 – Monitoring Test Administration

Critical Element	Evidence (Record document and page # for future reference)	Comments/Notes/Questions/Suggestions Regarding State Documentation or Evidence
 The State has implemented and locumented an appropriate set of policies and procedures to prevent est irregularities and ensure the integrity of test results through: Prevention of any assessment irregularities, including maintaining the security of test materials (both during test development and at time of test administration), proper test preparation guidelines and administration procedures, incident-reporting procedures, consequences for confirmed violations of test security, and requirements for annual training at the district and school levels for all individuals involved in test administration; Detection of test irregularities; Remediation following any test security incidents involving any of the State's assessments; Investigation of alleged or factual test irregularities. Application of test security procedures to the general ELP assessments and the AELPA. 	https://www.education.nh.gov/instruction/assessment/documents/test_security_assurances_2019.pdf 2018-19 WIDA District and School Test Coordinator Manual Section 2, 2.2, page 10; Section 3, 3.6, page 50	 Page 5 claims multistate evidence will be provided and there is a reference to WIDA manuals (which are inaccessible from this part of the state submission). Page 12 of the state submission points to a state website. The page appears to be a test security agreement for personnel to sign, but there are no associated policy documents requiring this form or approved policy documents supporting the rules of the agreement. It is unclear how exactly this document is disseminated and tracked to be sure that all relevant individuals have signed. Peers could not find information about (1) periodic reports of irregularities and how State responds and tracks, (2) more explicit procedures concerning how State addresses security incidents in the context of English learners (e.g., reopen, restart, invalidate, etc.), (3) how State communicates with schools and district concerning irregularities, and (4) procedures for detecting, remediating and/or investigating test irregularities.

Critical Element 2.5 – Test Security

- Provide evidence of explicit procedures concerning how state addresses security incidents in the context of English learners (e.g., reopen, restart, invalidate, etc.)
- Provide information on how test security documents are disseminated, tracked, and monitored to be sure that all relevant individuals are aware of test security requirements
- Provide evidence of the investigation of alleged or factual test irregularities to include forensic analysis and plans to address findings
- Provide evidence of remediation following any test security incidents involving the state's ELP assessment
- Provide evidence of periodic reports of irregularities and how state responds and tracks
- Provide evidence of how State communicates with schools and district concerning irregularities
- Provide evidence of requirements for annual training at the district and school levels for all individuals involved in test administration (it appears to be every other year)
- Please refer to peer review of Consortium-provided evidence for additional evidence needed on this element

Critical Element	Evidence (Record document and page # for future	Comments/Notes/Questions/Suggestions Regarding
	reference)	State Documentation or Evidence
 The State has policies and procedures in place to protect the integrity and confidentiality of its test materials, test-related data, and personally identifiable information, specifically: To protect the integrity of its test-related data in test administration, scoring, storage and use of results; To secure student-level assessment data and protect student privacy and confidentiality, including guidelines for districts and schools; To protect personally identifiable information about any individual student in reporting, including defining the minimum number of students necessary to allow reporting of scores for all students and student groups. 	Consortium Evidence: 2.6-1, 2.6-2, 2.6-3, 2.6-4 State evidence: Refer to: Table 1 of the NH DOE Data Use and Student Privacy, page 5. Refer to page 8 of the NH DOE Data Use and Student Privacy Guide 1 NH DOE Data Use and Student Privacy. https://www.education.nh.gov/data/documents/minimum- standards-privacy.pdf 2 NH FERPA99 30 Subpart D.docx Refer to page 8 of the NH DOE Data Use and Student Privacy Guide	The state-provided documentation offers evidence of general policies and procedures related to protecting personally identifiable data and other student information, but these do not appear to be state policies or procedures (they appear to be informational). The link to the "Minimum Standards for Privacy and Security of Student and Employee Data. New Hampshire Department of Education" enumerates the systems, policies and procedures for protecting the integrity of student and employee data, including such features as access control, identification and authentication, storage, risk assessment, and several others. The embedded NH DOE Data Use and Student Privacy document provides evidence of procedures to collect and protect personally identifiable student-level data via secure systems as well as guidelines for the use of systems and of data. This includes a definition of the minimum number of students necessary to allow reporting of scores for student groups. The NH FERPA document provides evidence of policies and procedures related to the disclosure of protected, private data, record keeping requirements concerning requests and disclosures (pp. 1-15) State-provided documentation does not address confidentiality of test materials (though test security is described in critical element 2.5). It is unclear from the documentation provided how the Consortium or the state protects information during test administration and reporting of results (for example, how is information transferred from WIDA to state to districts for reporting? How do districts maintain and disseminate this information to parents and students while maintaining privacy?). No information was provided regarding the minimum number

Consistent with the note on page 1, the evidence requested by the peer reviewers does not necessarily reflect the final set of additional evidence, if any, that a State may need to submit to demonstrate that its assessment system meets all of the critical elements for the assessment peer review. As a result, a State should refer to the letter to the State, including the list of additional evidence needed, if any, from the Department.

Peers could not find evidence among the links submitted describing how the State assess English learners with disabilities in domains in which the student may be exempted, such as in the context of the listening or speaking domains or some other domain or combination of domains.

Section 5.1 Summary Statement

- _x__ The following additional evidence is needed/provide brief rationale:
- Provide adopted policy or procedure documents that demonstrate that the State has in place procedures to ensure the inclusion of all EL public elementary and secondary school students with disabilities in the State's assessment system and that decisions about how to assess students with disabilities are made by the appropriate teams
 - Decisions about how to assess students with disabilities must be made by a student's IEP Team under IDEA, the placement team under Section 504, or the individual or team designated by a district to make that decision under Title II of the ADA, as applicable, based on each student's individual abilities and needs.
- Provide evidence of how the state's policies and procedures regarding including EL students with disabilities are communicated and implemented
- Provide evidence of how the state assesses English learners with disabilities if there are domains in which the student may be exempted, such as in the context of the listening or speaking domains or some other domain or combination of domains when the student cannot be assessed
- Provide evidence for how students with significant cognitive disabilities are to be assessed for English language proficiency (alternate ELP assessment was not included in this submission)

The state's website states that "In 2004, the New Hampshire State Board of Education adopted the WIDA English language proficiency standards." There is no further evidence provided. Preferred evidence would be a document, minutes of the relevant Board meeting, letter from the state superintendent or other formal evidence of adopting the standards.
