Office of Elementary and Secondary Education Technical Assistance Resources

Center to Improve Social and Emotional Learning and School Safety (SEL Center): The SEL Center provides technical assistance (TA) to support states and districts in the implementation of social and emotional learning evidence-based programs and practices, and to enhance the capacity of SEAs to support their LEAs and for LEAs to support their schools.

Comprehensive Center (CC) Network: The Comprehensive Center Network includes 19 Regional Centers and one National Comprehensive Center to provide capacity-building services to State educational agencies (SEAs), regional educational agencies (REAs), local educational agencies (LEAs), and schools that improve educational outcomes for all students, close achievement gaps, and improve the quality of instruction.

Equity Assistance Centers (EACs): The Equity Assistance Centers provide, upon request, TA and training to public school districts and other responsible governmental agencies in the areas of race, sex, national origin, and religion, including the preparation, adoption, and implementation of plans for the desegregation of public schools.

National Center for Homeless Education (NCHE): NCHE provides a variety of homeless education resources, available in electronic or hard copy format, including educational rights posters, federal homeless education data reports, homeless liaison toolkits, issue briefs, NCHE brochures, and parent brochures.

National Center on Safe Supportive Learning Environments (NCSSLE): NCSSLE offers information and technical assistance to States, districts, schools, institutions of higher learning, and communities focused on improving school climate and conditions for learning to sustain safe, engaging, and healthy school environments that support student academic success.

Student Engagement and Attendance Center (SEA Center): The SEA Center builds State and local capacity to identify at-risk students and support interventions designed to reduce increases in chronic absenteeism.

National Technical Assistance Center for the Education of Neglected or Delinquent Children and Youth (NDTAC): NDTAC is the U.S. Department of Education's technical assistance center for The Title I, Part D (Prevention and Intervention Programs for Children and Youth Who Are Neglected, Delinquent or At-Risk Program).

Positive Behavioral Interventions and Supports (PBIS): The PBIS Center provides a full range of TA resources to any school, district, or state that is interested in developing leadership team implementation capacity and establishing a MTSS framework to support implementation of evidence-based practices.

Readiness and Emergency Management for Schools (REMS) TA Center: The REMS Programs serves to increase the safety, security, emergency management and preparedness capacity for all SEAs, LEAs, schools, and Institutions of Higher Education (IHEs), including both grantees and non-grantees.

Regional Education Laboratories (REs): REL contractors support SEA and LEA partners in developing and applying research, evidence and evidence-based practices to Inform and improve education policy or practice.

State Support Network: The State Support Network is a technical assistance initiative designed to support state and district school improvement efforts. The State Support Network collaborates with states, districts, and technical assistance partners to elevate student outcomes, scale systemic solutions, share and leverage effective evidence-based practices, and build sustainable partnerships.

Technical Assistance Network and Improving Results for Children with Disabilities: The Office of Special Education Programs (OSEP) technical assistance centers are funded under the following IDEA programs: Personnel Development Program; Technical Assistance and Dissemination (TA&D) Program; Educational Technology, Media, and Materials Program; Parent Training and Information Program; and the TA on State Data Collection Program. The resource link provides information on each of the centers, their websites, and their focus areas.

Title IV, Part A (T4PA): The Title IV Part A Program addresses the needs of the Title IV-A State Coordinators and collaborates with federal partners and other organizations to help facilitate the Departments goals for program success.

You for Youth (Y4Y): Y4Y provides free training and resources for the Nita M. Lowey 21st Century Community Learning Centers (21st CCLC) program grantees and sub-grantees, including online learning, virtual and in-person trainings, quarterly webinars, and online resources.
