

Full-Service Community Schools (FSCS) Program

FY2022 Grant Competition

Institutions of Higher Education (IHEs) FSCS Program Guide

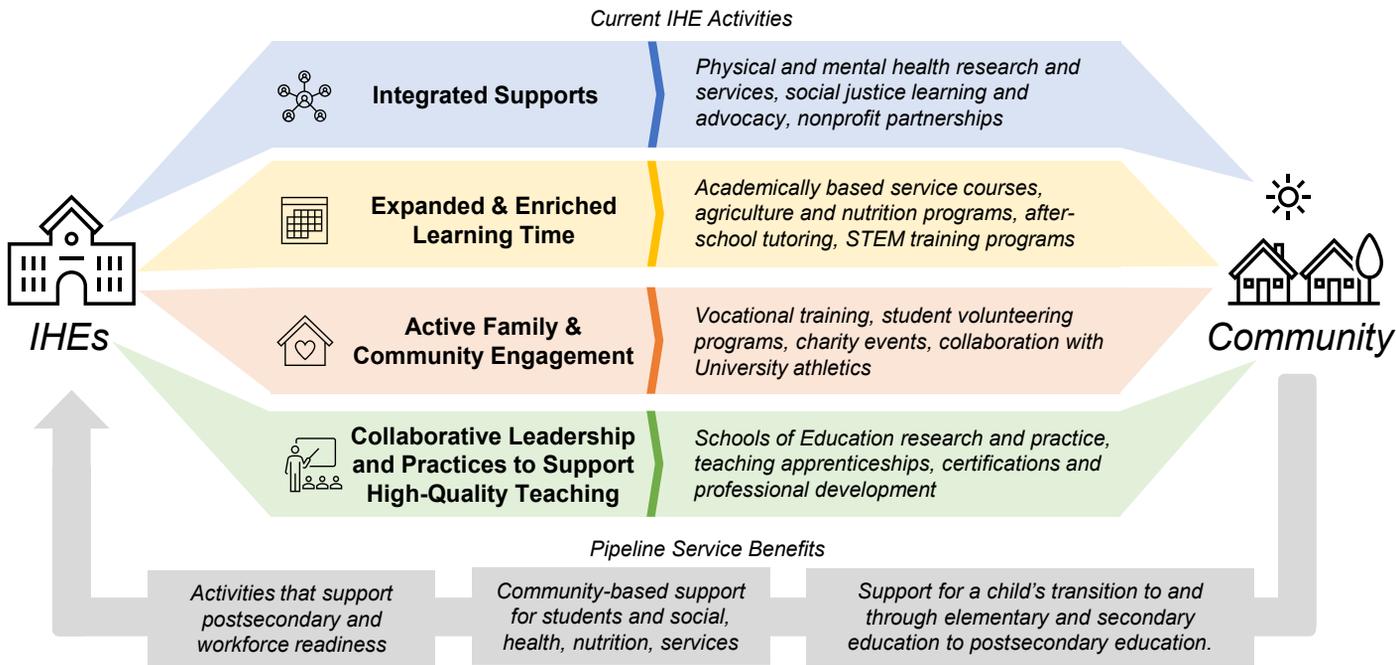

This document is a brief summary of the FSCS program regulations and application requirements. Do not rely solely on the information in this document for guidance. Please refer to the Notice Inviting Applications (NIA) and the program regulations published in the Federal Register for additional information, as these are the official documents governing the competition.

IHEs & Community Schools

Community colleges, colleges, and universities (public as well as private) play crucial, multi-faceted roles in their communities. The FSCS grant has a natural integration with the goals, programs, and initiatives currently being undertaken by IHEs. The pipeline services that are offered via the FSCS program are directly connected to institutional missions and have a long-lasting positive impact on IHEs.

The future of IHEs and their communities are deeply intertwined. Institutions that engage in the community school model stand to benefit in a variety of ways¹:

Advance learning, research, teaching, and service

Increased ability to recruit and retain outstanding faculty and students

Enhanced global leadership and reputation

Persuasive case for increased funding from donors and foundations

The Community Schools Approach

Under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 (ESEA) a full-service community school is defined as a public elementary or secondary school that: (a) Participates in a community-based effort to coordinate and integrate educational, developmental, family, health, and other comprehensive services through community based organizations and public and private partnerships; and (b) Provides access to such services in school to students, families, and the community, such as access during the school year (including before- and after-school hours and weekends), as well as during the summer.

Research shows that there are certain design features (sometimes referred to as “pillars”) that are common across full-service community schools that improve teaching, learning, and student outcomes:

Broadly, a full-service community school is a partnership among school staff, families, children, youth, and the community to raise student achievement by ensuring that children are physically, emotionally, and socially supported to learn. IHEs are important members of these communities and are playing an important role in supporting each of the above pillars in meaningful ways.

FSCS Grant Program

The Full-Service Community Schools (FSCS) grant program provides support for the planning, implementation, and operation of full-service community schools that improve the coordination, integration, accessibility, and effectiveness of services for children and families, particularly for children attending high-poverty schools.
