Office of Elementary & Secondary Education (OESE)

School Choice and Improvement
Program (SCIP)

WELCOME

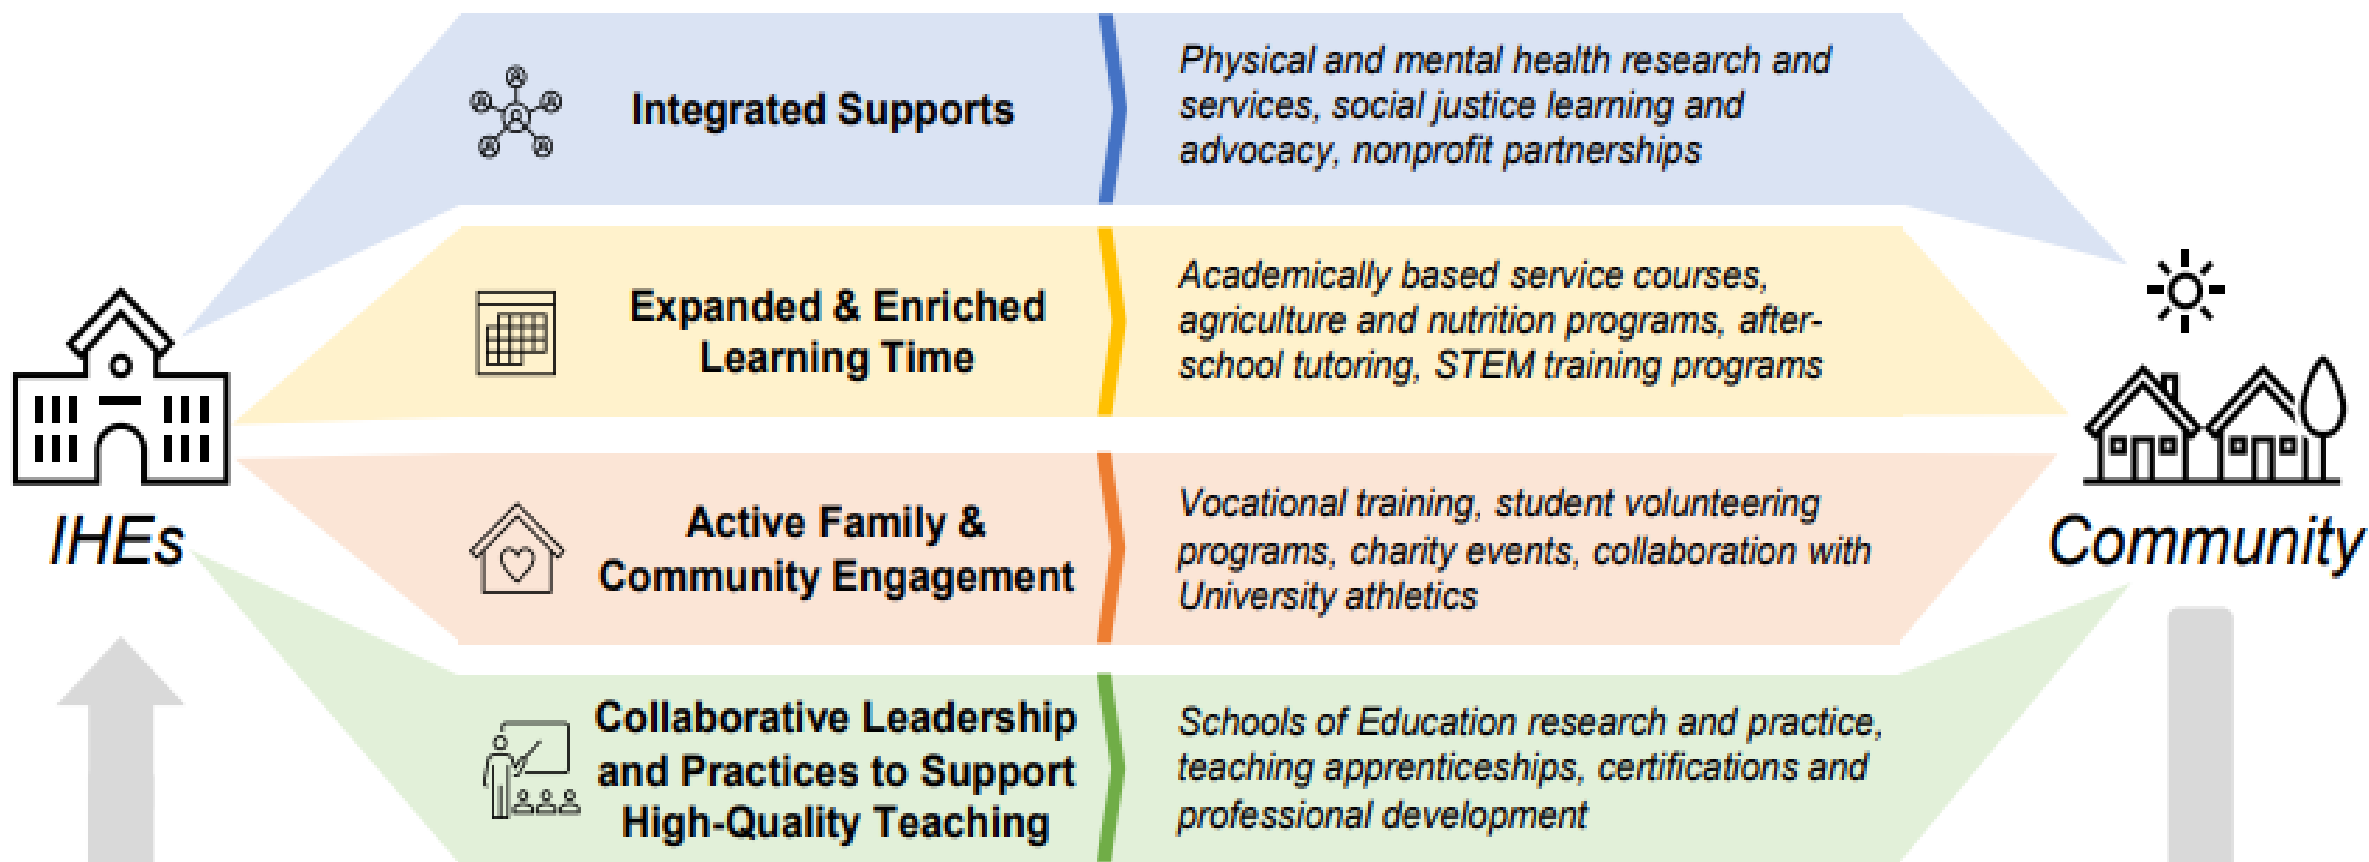

Special Message

The Full-Service Community Schools grant program has a natural integration with the goals, programs, and initiatives currently being undertaken by many Institutions of Higher Education (IHEs). Community colleges, colleges, and universities (public as well as private) play crucial, multi-faceted roles in their communities. The pipeline services that are offered via the FSCS program are directly connected to many of their institutional missions and have a long-lasting positive impact on IHEs.

Historically Black Colleges and Universities in particular as well as many minority-serving institutions have an illustrious history of coordinating and developing partnerships with communities and schools. Even today, there exists a clear synergy between their institutional missions and the goals and purposes of the FSCS program.

Current IHE Activities

Pipeline Service Benefits

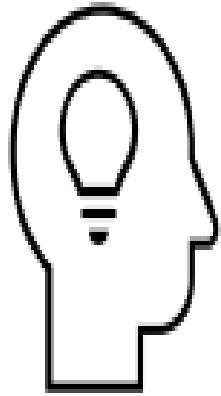

Activities that support postsecondary and workforce readiness

Community-based support for students and social, health, nutrition, services

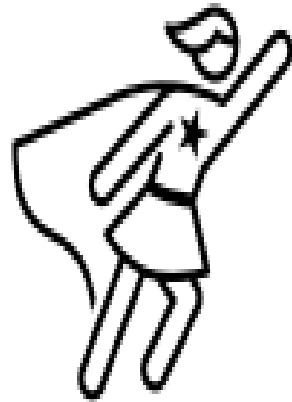

Support for a child's transition to and through elementary and secondary education to postsecondary education.

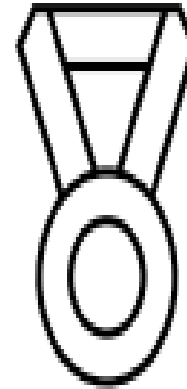

The future of IHEs and their communities are deeply intertwined. Institutions that engage in the community school model stand to benefit in a variety of ways¹:

Advance learning, research, teaching, and service

Increased ability to recruit and retain outstanding faculty and students

Enhanced global leadership and reputation

Persuasive case for increased funding from donors and foundations
