Welcome to the All Grantees - Javits Program Project Director's Meeting!

Thank you so much for taking the time to attend this meeting and we hope that the information that you receive will be helpful to you succeeding with completing your Javits Projects and managing your federal grant.

Housekeeping Rules

Please remember the following:

- MUTE your phones and computers (use the “mute” on your device or press *6)
- Do NOT utilize the HOLD function—this will place the entire call on hold. Simply hang up and dial back in when you’re able.
- Use the chat feature to ask questions.
- Sit back, relax, and enjoy the meeting!

(Open Rooms – 30 minutes in Breakout Rooms)

At this time, we will have our Breakout Sessions in which you will get to interact with your peers and share knowledge on specific topics. The topics for the sessions are:

Changing Students' Lives: Identifying and Serving Students from underrepresented populations. This session will be moderated by Susan O'Brien, from Milwaukee Public Schools.

Lessons Learned in Curriculum Design and Implementation. This session will be moderated by Tamra Stambaugh from University of Whitewater and working with the Project Director at East Tennessee State University. Kiana Johnson is the PD at ETSU and she will be sharing in the discussions.

Service Delivery Models for Gifted and Talented Students in Today's Schools. This session will be moderated by Coral Marsh of Pinellas County School District.

You have been placed in the breakout room that you selected in your email. We will have these same breakout sessions tomorrow so don't worry if you want to attend more than one session.

If you did not select a session to attend before the meeting, we will place you in one of the breakout rooms.

At the end of the breakout session, you will return to the main room for discussions. Please select one or two spokespersons to share out discussions from the sessions.

You will have 30 minutes in the breakout rooms.
