Project Description: Florida International University and our partners at Miami Dade County Public Schools will revisit, revise, and re-envision our undergraduate educator preparation programs (EPPs) while increasing educator diversity, supporting a diverse educator workforce, and promoting equity in education. Project Rethinking the Effective, Visionary, and Innovative Study of Education (REVISE) will revise our undergraduate EPP curriculum, in partnership with our partners at M-DCPS, to disrupt the cycle of teacher shortage and ensure students graduate significantly more prepared to work in high need schools and improving student success.

Project Expected Outcomes: Project REVISE curricular revisions will enhance the delivery of content knowledge and teaching methods, clinical placement and candidate performance, and quality of program performance management. Project REVISE will recruit and retain 100 teacher candidates, focused particularly on men of color, and preparing them to teach in high need shortage areas.

Project Special Features: Project REVISE will focus on curricular reform that aligns with research highlighting the elements critical to high-quality programs.

Project Partners: Project Partners: Miami-Dade County Public Schools.
