Title III EDFacts Data Collections

This technical assistance document aims to assist stakeholders in understanding the Title III Data Collections that are submitted to the U.S. Department of Education (ED) via EDPass. Please refer to the EDFacts file specifications or contact edfacts@ed.gov for official guidance.

Overview

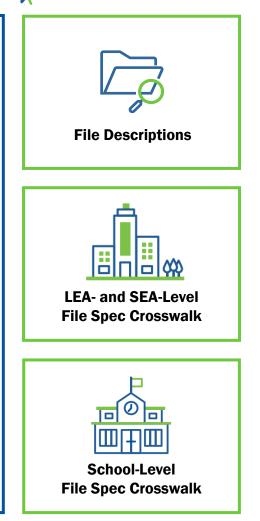

Each year, states are asked to meet a number of legislative requirements under Title III, Part A of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 (ESEA), as amended by the Every Student Succeeds Act of 2015 (ESSA), related to providing demographic and outcome data for English learners (ELs). ED collects most of these data from state educational agencies (SEAs) through the ED*Facts* system, which is an ED initiative that centralizes ED's data collections for use in education policy, management, and budget decision-making to improve outcomes for students.

EDFacts

Information contained in ED*Facts* is divided into topical data groups (DGs) and file specification guidance, or file specs (FSs), containing the rules for submitting data for the specific data group. The reporting period, the education units required to report the data (school, local educational agency (LEA), and SEA), and the timespan covered by the data all vary by file spec. This document provides an overview of the relationships between Title IIIrelated ED*Facts* file specs and clarifies the major differences between these file specs as of the school year 2022–23 reporting period. Each crosswalk illustrates relationships at a different level of data collection.

Most data collections included in this document are authorized under sections 3121, 3122, and 8303 of the ESEA.

File Descriptions

The file descriptions on this page are designed to provide a general understanding of the data collection. Please refer to the EDFacts file specifications for official definitions and guidance.

Population/Participation

FS045 Immigrant: Unduplicated number of immigrant students (as defined in Title III) enrolled during the school year.

LEA- and SEA-Level File Spec Crosswalk

This crosswalk illustrates relationships between Title III EDFacts file specifications (FSs) collected at the LEA and SEA levels. An arrow from A \rightarrow B indicates that the population reported on in B is a subgroup of the population reported on in A, or, for longitudinal data, that the population reported on in A feeds into the population reported on in B. FSs are color coded by data type.

NOTES

The following pairs of file specs may have some population discrepancies because some students may not have been enrolled during the reporting periods of both file specs: FS141/FS116, FS116/FS138, and FS141/FS137.

School-Level File Spec Crosswalk

This crosswalk illustrates relationships between Title III EDFacts file specifications (FSs) collected at the school level. An arrow from A \rightarrow B indicates that the population reported on in B is a subgroup of the population reported on in A, or for longitudinal data, that the population reported on in A feeds into the population reported on in B. FSs are color coded by data type.

NOTES

The following pairs of file specs may have some population discrepancies because some students may not have been enrolled during the reporting periods of both file specs: FS141/FS137.
